Some suggestions and rules: If you mention a programming language like R, typeset the language name with the \proglang macro. If you mention an R function foo, typeset the function name with standard markdown backticks. If you mention an R package fooPkg, typeset the package name with the \pkg macro.

Textual, e.g. "(AuthorA 2007) jumped over the fence" and parenthetical, e.g. "The fence was jumped (2008)" citations may appear within the abstract.

Itemized lists are allowed in abstracts, but may be wasteful of space, which is strictly limited. Avoid itemized lists if possible, but gracefully. Abstracts should not exceed one US letter (8.5 x 11 inches) page. The page should not be numbered.
